DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by German reference DE 197 06 417 C1.

Regarding claim 1, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle with a roof having a roof covering and several lateral frame parts, which at least partially span the roof covering when the roof is closed and follow each other in the longitudinal direction of the vehicle, in which a rear frame part extends from a window parapet line with an upward extending component, characterized in that the adjacent frame part, preceding the rear frame part in the direction of travel when roof is closed, can be moved without a force transfer through the rear frame part by at least one drive provided for roof opening, and the rear frame part is suspended on a gear mechanism that transfers the drive force and can be moved by it.

Regarding claim 2, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 1, characterized in that the adjacent frame part is connected to a pivot joint along with the rear frame part.

Regarding claim 3, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 1, characterized in that the rear frame part is connected to body through at least one separate movable connection mechanism.

Regarding claim 4, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 3, characterized in that the connection mechanism includes two levers forming a double joint and connected to each other on a pivot joint.

Regarding claim 5, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 4, characterized in that the rear frame part is firmly connected to a lever of the double joint.

Regarding claim 6, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 1, characterized in that the rear frame part, in its lower end area, has no direct body connection, at least during roof movement.

Regarding claim 7, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 1, characterized in that to transfer force between drive and adjacent frame part, a multiple joint engaging on a vehicle body on one end and on an adjacent frame part on the other end, is used.

Regarding claim 8, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 7, characterized in that the multiple joint is a four pivot joint suspension.

Regarding claim 9, German reference '417 discloses a convertible vehicle according to Claim 8, characterized in that the four pivot joint suspension includes two links mounted on body and extending upward to adjacent frame part and connected so as to pivot there.

Regarding claim 10, German reference '417 discloses a movable vehicle roof for a convertible vehicle according to Claim 1.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The cited references show several other convertible tops similar to that of the current invention.
